

FRIENDS OF ORANGE COUNTY DETAINEES PROUDLY PRESENTS A STAGED READING

ASYLUM ANGUISH: STORIES FROM THE BORDER

A dramatic event that offers five powerful stories from LGBTQ+ and straight immigrants seeking asylum in the United States.

Sunday, February 10, 2019

5:00 P.M. to 6:00 P.M.

International light hors d'oeuvres

6:10 P.M. to 8:00 P.M.

Staged reading

Auditorium

St. Joseph Center

480 South Batavia Street

Orange, CA 92868

Suggested donation

General admission: $50

Students and Seniors 65+: $25

RSVP by Jan. 30, 2019 at:

friendsofocdetainees.org/Events

For more event details or to request reasonable accommodations for a disability, please email friendsofocdetainees@gmail.com

Developed, Written and Directed by Jane Page and Gavin Cameron-Webb.

The stories are true: shared directly by the male and female immigrants.

Spoken by actors from the UCI Department of Drama, this intimate staged reading is exceptionally powerful with AV effects and untold stories that bring you to their reality.

Friends of Orange County Detainees (FOCD) is a community of volunteers on a humanitarian mission to offer regular visits to men and women in immigrant detention. Since 2012, FOCD volunteers have recorded over 8,000 visits to people in isolation. FOCD also provides emergency assistance to asylum seekers from their point of release to the safety of their new homes all across the U.S.